

The Label is located in the battery compartment, and it is visible to the users as they purchase the products and install the battery