

Size:13x12x6cm

The device has a single button, used to turn on and turn off the device. Button has lights that indicate the device operation.

Device has an internal Li-Po battery.

The device is charged over the USB-C connector.

Device is portable and used on the neck of the person.

Internal construction consists of wires, battery, electronic PCB, and metal contacts.

External construction has covers that protects internal structure. The only hole is for USB-C connector.

Device photos:

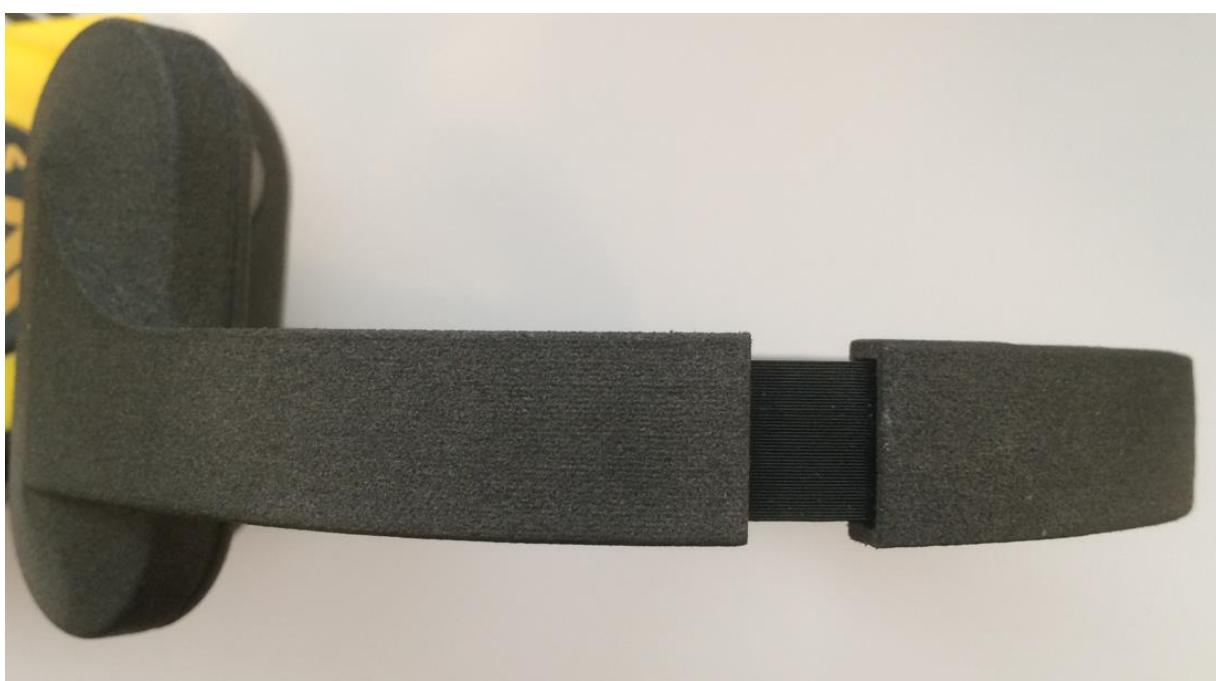

Back:

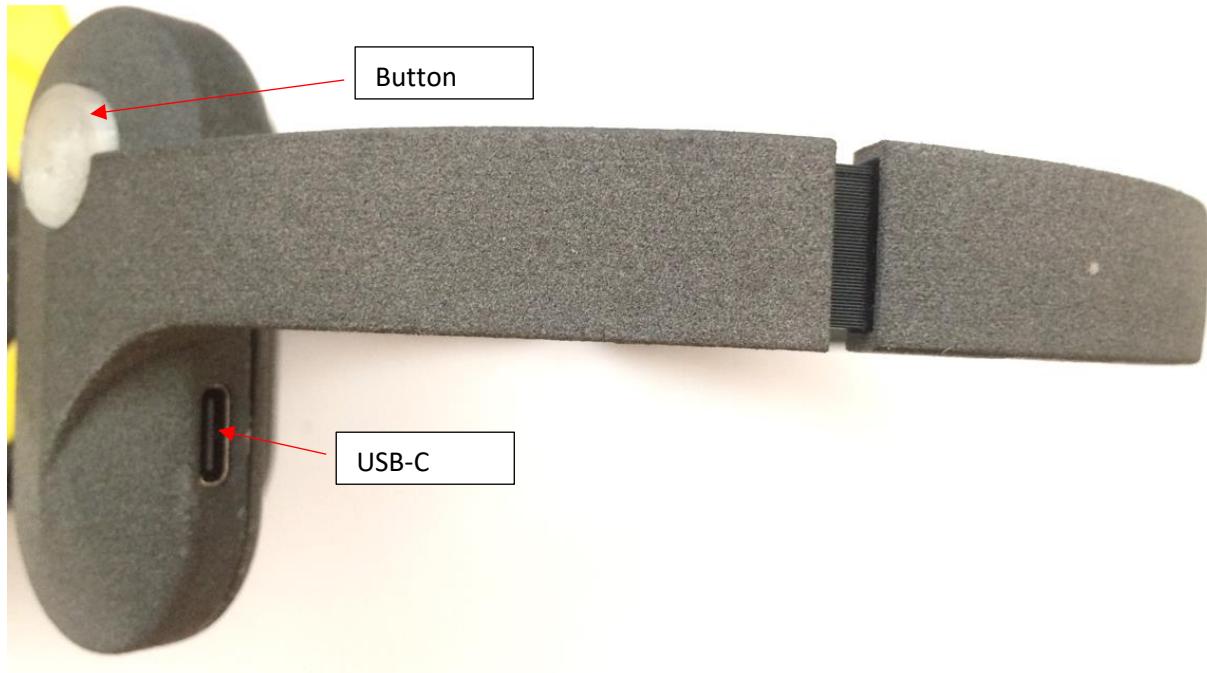

Front

Side L

Side R (The grey-white part is a button with the lights)

Top:

Bottom:

