INFORMATION ABOUT PRODUCTS THAT GENERATE ELECTRICAL NOISE

The Media Center complies with FCC and Industry Canada RF radiation exposure limits set forth for general population. The system must not be collocated or operating in conjunction with any other antennas or transmitters. This device complies with Part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions:

- (1) This device may not cause harmful interference, and
- (2) This device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation.

U.S.A. ONLY

This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class B digital device, pursuant to Part 15 of the FCC rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This equipment generates, uses, and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio communications. However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. If this equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, you are encouraged to try to correct the interference by one or more of the following measures:

- Re-orient or relocate the receiving antenna.
- Increase the separation between the equipment and receiver.
- Connect the equipment to an outlet on a different circuit than the one to which the receiver is connected.
- Consult the dealer or an experienced radio / TV technician for help.

CANADA

- This digital apparatus complies with the Canadian ICES-003 Class B specification.
- The radio communication device incorporated into this apparatus meets all requirements of the Industry Canada standard RSS-210.
