Parental Control

Q: After a DVD is inserted into the disc compartment, a dialogue window will appear asking for a password of 4 digits. Why?
A: This is because that the movie you are playing was rated with the Parental Control, and the current rating level of the DVD player is lower than the one of the current disc. You must input the right password and enter it in the Parental Control setup menu and then set an equal or higher rating level than the one of the current disc.

NOTE:
● If you have not changed the password, the factory preset password for the DVD player will be empty. You will need to input a desired password and input it again to verify it in the Parental Control setup menu.
● For the rating level setup of Parental Control of the DVD player, please refer to the relative content of SYSTEM SETUP menu for details.

Accessories: Parent Control

● The Parental Control function of a DVD player can control the playback of the movie rating level of a disc. You can set the DVD player (including software player in PC) to be a certain rating level with SETUP MENU on TV screen. If the rating level set in the disc is higher than the one set in the DVD player, the DVD player can not playback the disc. Sometimes the Parental Control sequences in some discs are different from each other. The rating level setup can be protected by the password. Therein, if you select the unlock item, the Parent Control function will be invalid, and the content of the disc will be played.
● The disc movie can be designed as that the DVD player will playback the different version of content of a same movie according to the different rating level set by Parental Control. Depending on the DVD feature of seamless switching described above, the scenes that are unsuitable for children will be cleared or replaced by other suitable scenes automatically.
● All rating levels of Parental Control are as follows:
Unlock
1. Kid Safe
2. G
3. PG
4. PG 13
5. R
6. NC 17
7. Adult

The Region Code

Q: No DVD playback. Screen displays REGION ERROR after inserting disc into disc compartment. Why?
