

1. Will this product be used in the United States? You mention it will not be sold to the general public in the US but will it actually be installed in the US?

This module as accessory of the HUAWEI RTN equipment, might be used in the United States, but will not be sold separately in the United States.

2. Please provide a better description of the use conditions. You state it will be installed in HUAWEI RTN (radio transmission radio equipment). Please provide a description of this RTN. This is needed to determine if the 20 cm separation distance requirement for mobile classification can be met at all times during device use.

HUAWEI RTN equipment used in the mobile communication network or private network provides a large capacity microwave backhaul solutions.

The WIFI module is inside the RTN

This WIFI module is installed in the HUAWEI RTN equipment for the maintenance and management of the equipment.

RTN typical application scenario is on the top of the tower and the roof, that can meet the requirement of the distance between the equipment and the human body greater than 20CM.

1) The tower

2) The roof

