

Operation Principle

When push forward/backward, left/right handle, IC TX2S will receive relative instruction, and then transmitting corresponding coded signals, this coded signal and the local oscillator signals were amplified and transmitted through antenna to control forward,backward, left and right movement. The oscillator is 40.68 MHz .