

Label Location

The device label with FCC ID shall be located in the upper right hand corner of the device. The label is affixed to the inner front housing, under the cover.

A user is required to find the label when setting up our device. The user guide and app requires the user to find the label in order to get the serial number for security reasons.