EUT View 5	 A top-down photograph of a white, rectangular electronic device with rounded corners. A blue hinge mechanism is attached to the top edge, extending upwards. The device is placed on a blue textured surface. A black ruler with white markings is positioned horizontally below the device, showing measurements in centimeters and millimeters.
	 A close-up photograph of the bottom of the white electronic device. It shows a recessed area with a small, dark, rectangular opening, likely a port or a sensor. The device is resting on a blue textured surface.
