RE: Long Term Confidentiality Request for FCC ID: 2BBSF-SC11-AAB

This letter is to comply with Section 0.457(d), Section 0.459 of the FCC rules and KDB 726920 D01 pertaining to confidential material. Dense Air Ltd requests the following documents regarding the submission for FCC ID: 2BBSF-SC11-AAB be subject to Long Term Confidentiality.

We, additionally request special long-term confidentiality for the Internal Photographs and Installation Guide as the product is a non-consumer product and confirm these documents would only be provided to designated technicians or used for sales and marking purposes under a Non-Disclosure Agreement. The Internal Photographs and Installation Guide are contained in a Document Control system that is only accessible by employees. The NDA section 2, controls the Use, Disclosure and Reproduction of confidential information and section 4 describes the Return of Confidential Information provided under the terms of the NDA.

We request the internal photos are subject to long term confidentiality as the internal circuitry and components are not accessible to users or the public because the device is not accessible to the public. The equipment is pole mounted approximately 8-10m above ground level.

We further request the Installation Guide is subject to long term confidentiality as this is a technical manual containing detailed system configuration, operational and equipment descriptions intended for professional technicians. The Installation Manual is only provided to and used by qualified professional installers under a Non-Disclosure Agreement.
