

Antenna Information

In the case of the MCR-RF Light, the antenna is a microstrip pattern on the main and only PCB. It cannot be replaced so is the only available option. The antenna gain is approximately -3dB because of the losses associated with an internal antenna of this type.

The antenna is highlighted.