DK82 is the test model, while other models are derivative models. These models are the same on the circuit, with only different model names, the shell shapes are different, and each model has language extensions such as US/UK/DE/IT/FR/ES/RU/JP. The language distinction is only based on the component patches corresponding to the text positions on the PCB, while the components at the RF positions are exactly the same. Therefore, the test data of DK82 can represent the remaining models.
