

A black, square-shaped electronic device is shown from a top-down perspective. The device has a green circuit board visible along its top edge, with several components and a black antenna attached. The antenna is a long, thin, black rod with a yellow band near the top. The device is mounted on a white surface.

