

Attention

- ① Don't use in wet environment near parallel goods to avoid liquid flow into the terminal.
- ② Don't use in extremely cold and hot environments, such as near the source of fire.
- ③ Daily maintenance is maintained in a clean environment to avoid small materials falling into the terminal.
- ④ Don't use it near medical equipment or environment.

7. Statement

The Company is not responsible for the following actions :

- ① Not used in accordance with the terms limited or reminded in this operation manual.
- ② Equipment abnormality or equipment damage caused by consumables used by merchants.
- ③ Various versions of software installed by the merchant or illegal software. Arising from copyright issues or legal disputes.

Legal Disclaimer

Due to product updates, some details of this document may not be consistent with the product.
Please refer to the physical as the standard.

The Company reserves the right to modify the User Guide without prior notice.

8. Quality statement

In order to ensure that the product quality meets the needs of merchants and ensure the safety and stability of products. The company hereby makes the following commitments and requirements:

- ① The company provide corresponding warranty service from the date the product sales.
- ② The products produced by the company meets the quality standard requirements stipulated by relevant laws.
- ③ When the products leave the factory. The company provide corresponding services according to the order requirements . As such product production license, enterprise standards and other materials etc.
- ④ If consumers complain a product quality problems, the company will actively cooperate with them and properly solve them. If confirmed that the final problem belongs to the company, the company should the responsibility.
- ⑤ The patent and ownership of the products belong to the company.