Re: Class II Permissive Change Certification Application for Panasonic Tablet Computer
Model JT-B1APAAZAM under FCC ID: ACJ-JT-B1APAAZAMW
Contains Transmitters

- NXP/Philips RFID Model PN544
- TI's BT/WLAN/UNII/GPS Combo Model WL1283

To whom it may concern:

We, Panasonic Corporation of North America, hereby declare that we are only and fully responsible for this Class II Permissive Change declaration for FCC ID: ACJ-JT-B1APAAZAMW. The differences between this application and the original one are as follows:

1. Upgrade hardware version from ES 1.5 to ES 2.0 by changing PCB layout
2. Enable frequency 5745-5825 MHz by software
3. Add a white USB cable with core
4. Add an adapter with core
5. Change the appearance of the device (please refer to the external photos).

Except for the changes mentioned above, no other modifications are performed. These changes do not have any influence upon the approval of radio parameters such as power, frequency range, modulation, etc.

Should you have any question, please contact me directly.

Sincerely yours,

Richard Mullen
