To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is to request Single Modular Approval for the product FCC ID: AUH-1004-W530. This product is a wireless 802.11 b/g/n Access Point Module and can only be used in Original Equipment Manufacturer's products. This product will be available only to authorized companies in our internal distribution list. This modular transmitter complies with the module basic requirement of FCC Public Notice: Part 15 Unlicensed Modular Transmitter Approval (FCC 15.212) as indicated below.

1. Have its own RF shielding:
The transmitter has a RF shield.

2. The modular transmitter must have buffered modulation/data inputs:
It has buffered modulation/data inputs to accommodate excessive data rates or over-modulation.
3. The modular transmitter must have its own power supply regulation:
Regulated 3.3 VDC is supplied from the host device and all other regulated power supply voltages are provided on the module.
4. The modular transmitter must comply with the antenna requirements of Section 15.203, 15.204(c) and 15.407(d):
The antennas are fixed on the module.
5. The modular transmitter must be tested in a stand-alone configuration:
It was tested in a stand-alone configuration. See test reports.
6. The modular transmitter must be labeled with its own FCC ID, and if the FCC ID is not visible when the module is installed inside another device, then the outside of the device into which the module is installed must also display a label referring to the enclosed module:
The User Manual instructs the installer to display the FCC ID on the outside of the product and visible to the user.
7. The modular transmitter must comply with any specific rule or operating requirements applicable to the transmitter and the manufacturer must provide adequate instructions along with the module to explain any such requirements:
The User Manual states the specific rules or operating requirements.
8. The modular transmitter must comply with any applicable RF exposure requirements:
Refer to the RF Exposure Statements.

Sincerely,
