Re: Form 731 associated with Authorization application B4Z-832-PPX

I had great difficulty in getting the form 731 filled out. I would mysteriously get booted back to the FCC home page while I was entering the information. After several tries and a few hours, I eventually got through it by entering minimal information. I thought I could go back to update it later, but now find that I can't. My concern is that the default information in the header is not correct. If there is any questions about this submittal since I didn't fill out the technical contact, please contact me as indicated below. Meanwhile, I am sending a letter in to have the default information corrected.

Thank you,
