RE: DKN-501CS

To Whom It May Concern:

The FCC label for this product is located inside the product in silkscreen on the PCB. The cover is removable and the user is expected to remove the cover to replace the internal battery. The cover does not require use of a special tool to remove and removal is explained in the user manual. The FCC ID is visible at the time of purchase on the retail package box label.

Sincerely,

Ian Schroeder
