Subject: Confidentiality Request
FCC ID: EFCST0001
Products: ST810

It is requested that the following items associated with this submission be held confidence in accordance with FCC Rule Section 0.459:

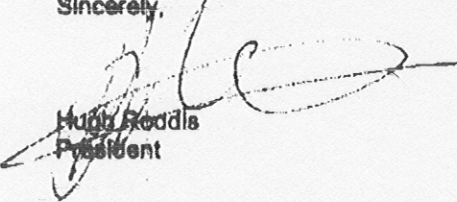

- a) Schematics
- b) Block diagram (or Technical Description)
- c) Parts List
- d) External and Internal photos
- e) User guides

The reasons for withholding the above materials from inspection are trade secrets and substantial competitive harm. The above exhibits contain designs and information proprietary to Orion Electronics Limited. This information is available only for internal company use and/or to qualified government personnel, and is not available publicly.

Public release of these items would allow competitors to copy key elements of Orion Electronics Limited's design, and also provide them with engineering specifications that have been based on Orion Electronics Limited's many years of experience. Moreover, the ST810 will be made available only to qualified government personnel, so it is in the interest of public safety not to release this information.

We feel that this material should be held confidential in perpetuity, because the trade secrets that are based on Orion Electronics Limited's years of experience will always be applicable to the design of a similar product.

Sincerely,

Hugh Reddis
President
