Subject: Declaration Letter for professional installation for AZW-5000

To Whom it May Concern:

AZW-5000 is wireless BACnet transceiver that is used normally in industry for HVAC controls and parameters monitoring like temperature / humidity etc that supports BACnet protocol.

Honeywell Inc declares that AZW-5000 requires a special set of skills for installation and configuration i.e. checking signal strength before installation using proprietary tool for wireless network within the building for best performance. Hence, this device cannot be sold to general public through retail or by mail order.

Honeywell Inc ensures that AZW-5000 is to be sold only through dealers and will be installed through professionals assigned by dealers only who are proficient in programming, installing and commissioning wireless networks.

Sincerely,

Alan D. Bredon
