Question and response:

Thank you for your email. We note, however, that, while the revised SAR report includes the re-measured AWS band SAR (using compliant tissue fluid), the original cellular band measurements are still included. As stated in the original email that we sent to you, both the cellular band and AWS band tissue fluid parameters did not meet the criteria set forth in the App Note. Please revise the report to include the re-measured cellular band SAR (using compliant tissue fluid) and resubmit it.

Response: Please refer to page 11 of the revised SAR report (dated May 14, 2009). The extrapolated values adhere to the procedure described in KDB 450824, System Accuracy Verification.
