

CB965, CB966 and CB967 FCC Label Placement

The FCC Label is placed on the Electronics Module as shown. This module is common for all three Next Generation Help Button Models (CB965, CB966 and CB967)

All three models are shipped without the batteries and before installation, the batteries must be installed before mounting and usage. As can be seen, the FCC label is very visible when performing the battery insertion operation for each of the three models as shown in the pictures below.
