

Description of operation

The EUT is a transmitter of a Car Alarm system. It can lock or open the doors of the car that the associated receiver is installed with RF signals. Also it can setup the associated receiver in alarm mode, and if someone attempts to force to open the door or shack that car, the receiver will alarm by making laud noise. This transmitter is designed with pulse amplitude modulation.