

Operation Description

Using transmitter to send the code to car transceiver, than car transceiver will send the code to alarm system. After alarm system receive the code it will start to work and send the code back to car transceiver. Than car transceiver will send the code to transmitter. At this time the LCD on the transmitter will show the condition of the car. The transmitter is using 1.5 V battery.