

Product Equity Declaration Letter

23-Dec-2015

To Whom It May Concern,

We, Sierra Wireless, certify that AirPrime HL8528 and AirPrime HL8529 shall be considered as identical.

From a HW point of view, the only difference is ONE non-connected resistor to identify them on production line.

There is no schematic diagram for a resistor (1 passive component) that has no other purpose than the one mentioned above.

Additionally the firmware is the same and depending on the above resistor, the FW will enable or not the 2G functionality.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Denis Chabot", with a stylized flourish at the end.
