

Operational Description

The transmitter emits a coded radio signal when reed switch is closed i.e. Gate is opened.

The signal is detected by the receiver, which generates an audio alarm.

The transmitter stops emitting a coded signal when reed switch is opened i.e. Gate is closed.

The transmitter is power by a replaceable 3V Lithium coin cell battery and employs an integral loop antenna.