In reference to FCC ID NXWMOBYI-SLG40S

Mr. Case

In response to your letter dated January 03, 2002 the following is stated:

1. A technical description and theory of operation will be submitted through ATCB website
2. As discussed
3. As discussed
4. Test Report
  - A) Testing and certification was ordered in 1998 for a family of inductive readers including this one. The client decided to exempt this product from certification at that time due to a change in policy. In 2001 it was requested to finish certification for this product as well.
  - B) A statement from the manufacturer confirming that no modifications have been made since the time of testing.
  - C) It is hereby confirmed that all major emissions on the plots have been investigated at 30 m distance and that the harmonics are below the fundamental signal.
