Attestation Restricted Channel Operation

The Meld Technology model MT300, FCC ID OKVMT300, does not operate on restricted channels, even if the database includes restricted channels provided to the TVBD in the available channel list. This functionality has been tested and verified. As an example, when channel 35 is provided to the TVBD in the available channel list, and channel 35 is set as the preferred channel, the radio will not tune to channel 35 and will instead automatically tune to the next preferred channel or the first available channel in the list within its tuning range.

Sincerely,
