OPERATIONAL DESCRIPTION

The HME-130R is a compact, light-weight wireless transmitter, when activated by pressing the button for two seconds, the receiver will learn the code of the transmitter. If the transmitter button is pressed and held for three seconds..
Alkaline 12V battery powers the transmitter. The red LED on the front of the transmitter will light when the unit is activated.