

Operating Condition

Please note that Radiation and Conduction measurement were performed in following operating condition

Operating mode: Simulation mode

Programmed Software was used to simulate registering fingerprints.

Emissions when finger is placed on the sensor were investigated, but there was no change for the emission.