

Operational Description

This device is a Radio Control Transmitter, only one channel is provided and it is powered by batteries. The Rod antenna should be fully extended during operating.

The other instruction, please have a look at the users manual.