Subject: Confidentiality of Schematic Diagrams

We request that you keep all of our schematic diagrams confidential. They are considered proprietary documents and we do not distribute them to anyone without a written non-disclosure agreement between our company and the recipient.

These documents if published could allow other companies to copy our equipment.

If you need more information regarding this request or if it is subject to being denied, please contact me via email at: rick@sentecheas.com prior to it being posted publicly.

Thank you,

Richard Spagna
President
