

Operation Principle

First of all MP3 music files will be removed from the NAND FLASN and read the NAND FLASH signal to the decoder chip → decode the signals → solution will be adopted by the ALi M5661X digital signal into analog signals → then converting the analog audio amplification → After low-pass filtering to the headphone output, the output is after we have heard the music.