

Description of Permissive Change

This application is preparing for FCC class II permissive change for a certified 11abgn DFS client device to include the DFS master function through the software enabling and all hardware and RF characteristics remain no change. Since DFS master function was enabled through software and original RF characteristics remain no change, we tested only DFS master function and submitted in this application.