

MARASST INC. MODEL 05001

The wireless system is a full colour camera/transmitter/receiver. This system as described in our block diagram can be used for monitoring many different situations. The camera and microphone signals are fed into the RF Tx module. The modulated signal is then transmitted to the receiver/display unit. The Unit is capable of operating on several channels.