

Operational Description

This unit is part of an in home security system. When one of the control lines are tripped or activated the audio memory integrated circuit is activated and the RF transmitter is activated. The RF transmitter is active for less than 5 seconds. The recognition code sent is less than 10 milliseconds in length.

The DC power is internally regulated to 5 Vdc. This DC voltage is distributed to all the active components.