1. The manual does not contain the statement in accordance with 15.21 (no modification).

R. The manual has been revised to reflect the required statement. Please see exhibit "SolidFlow manual 3-2002 Part 1 Rev 1.PDF", specifically Page 6, paragraph 3.5.

- 2. Is there any circuitry under the wave guide section on the PCB? If so, please provide a photo of this section of the board. If not, please so state.
- R. We attest that there is no circuitry present on the PCB underneath the wave guide assembly. The client expressed concern regarding disassembly of the test sample to the point of inoperability. Accordingly, we sought to avoid deconstruction of the unit more than was necessary.
