

Response to TCB Findings

1. Please clarify how the modifications and ferrites will be ensured on the final devices that will be supplied to the end-users. The manual must include a warning against removal of these ferrites, if they are supplied to the user already installed. If not supplied already installed, then proper instructions must be provided to the user for installation. Please clarify.

The ferrites are supplied to the user already installed. See file user_manual_ldb,rev2.pdf

2. Please clarify; through what kind of connection, the antenna is connected to the transmitter board.

Three pins connect the antenna to the transmitter board.
