

Gimbal™ Proximity Beacon User Guide

The Gimbal Proximity Beacon is a Bluetooth™, low-energy (BLE) device that transmits its presence and other data of interest so that applications or receiver devices can discover it and acquire the data it has to communicate. BLE is designed to use considerably less power than traditional Bluetooth while still maintaining similar range and functionality.

To use your beacon, you must first activate it. This can be done by visiting <http://gimbal.com/> and following the instructions contained there to create and/or login to your account and associate this beacon with your account. To activate your beacon, you'll need the activation code found either on the beacon's box or on rear label of the beacon. (e.g. 1C34-5A789) Once activated, the beacon is designed to be used with the Gimbal solution for various proximity applications.

Once activated, to power your beacon, simply depress the tab on the outside of the beacon with your thumb in order to open it and insert the 4-AA alkaline batteries according to the markings on the battery holders within the beacon. The beacon is operational within 30 seconds of installing all 4-AA batteries. To cease operation of the beacon, simply remove all 4-AA batteries. Removing and reinstalling all 4-AA batteries will also restart the beacon. Note that battery life under normal operating conditions should be at least 12 months though capacity of batteries does vary and will affect this estimate.

Once batteries have been installed, and before closing the beacon, choose how you would like to mount it. The beacon includes double-sided tape within the box that is suitable to most applications. Alternately, three black drywall screws are also included and can be used in the three mounting holes provided but be sure to install these before closing the beacon. Finally, a standard ¼"-20 camera mount is provided on the back of the unit which can be used with standard off-the-shelf mounting brackets typically available for camera applications (bracket not included). CAUTION: Take care when installing the batteries to ensure the correct polarity in order to prevent possible damage or temporary loss of function to the Beacon.

When mounting the unit, it's best to 'point' the front, polished external face of the unit (which has no labels) toward whatever device or receiver will be receiving the beacon's transmissions. Once closed and mounted, the included silver-colored set screw can be used to secure the tab thereby preventing the unit from being opened. An additional label is also included should you wish to affix it to the beacon exterior at a place that is convenient for your intended purpose.

WARNING - CHOKING HAZARD: Small parts. Not for children under 3 years. This product comes with alkaline batteries. To reduce risk of injury, do not disassemble, crush, puncture, short circuit external contacts, expose to temperatures above 100°C (212°F), or dispose of in fire or water. If the battery leaks, do not allow the leaking fluid to come in contact with skin or clothing. If contact has already occurred, flush the affected area immediately with clean water and seek medical advice. Do not allow the leaking fluid to come in contact with eyes. If contact has already occurred, DO NOT rub; rinse with clean water immediately and seek medical advice. Take extra precautions to keep a leaking battery away from fire, as there is a danger of ignition or explosion. Vapor generated from burning batteries may irritate eyes, skin, and throat. If inhalation occurs, move to a well-ventilated area immediately and seek medical advice.

Gimbal™ Proximity Beacon Software End User License Agreement

This End User License EULA (this "EULA") is a legally binding agreement between you and Qualcomm Retail Solutions, Inc. ("QRS") for the use of the software embedded in your Gimbal Proximity Beacon device (the "Beacon") and any Updates thereto (defined below) (collectively, the "Beacon Software") as originally delivered by QRS. BY USING THE BEACON, YOU ACKNOWLEDGE THAT YOU HAVE READ THIS EULA, UNDERSTAND IT AND AGREE TO BE BOUND BY ITS TERMS AND CONDITIONS. If you do not agree with the following terms and conditions, you must refrain from using the Beacon. The term "You" in this EULA refers to the individual or business entity using the Beacon.

1. License Grant. Subject to and conditioned upon Your compliance with the terms and conditions of this EULA, QRS hereby grants You a limited, nonexclusive, nontransferable, non-sublicensable, revocable license under QRS's copyrights to display the Beacon Software, only as embedded in the Beacon and as authorized in this EULA, for your personal and non-commercial use, unless you are expressly authorized by QRS in writing to use the Beacon(s) for commercial purposes. Your limited right of use will automatically expire upon the termination or cancellation of this EULA, by either QRS or You, for any reason.

2. Updates. This EULA will govern any upgrades, updates, supplements and add-on components (if any) to the Beacon Software that QRS may provide to You or make available to You after the date You obtain Your initial copy of the Beacon Software (collectively, the "Updates"), unless we provide other terms along with such Updates. After upgrading, You may no longer use the older version of the Beacon Software. You acknowledge and agree that QRS may automatically check the version of the Beacon Software and/or its components that You are utilizing and may provide Updates to the Beacon Software.

3. Restrictions. You agree not to exceed the scope of the foregoing license, copy, create derivative works, reproduce, modify or distribute the Beacon Software. Subject to applicable law, you agree not to decompile, reverse engineer, disassemble or otherwise attempt to learn the source code, structure or algorithms underlying the Beacon Software. You agree not to (i) remove any copyright or other proprietary notice from the Beacon Software, (ii) sublicense or transfer the Beacon Software to a third party; (iii) extract or replace any part of the Beacon Software; or (iv) sell, rent, lease, lend, provide commercial hosting services or otherwise transfer the Beacon Software for value. This EULA does not allow you to use the Beacon Software on a Beacon that you do not own or control, and you may not distribute or make the Beacon Software available over a network where it could be used by multiple devices at the same time. You are not permitted to make any copies of the Beacon Software.

4. Third Party Materials. The Beacon Software and any other materials licensed and provided by QRS under this EULA, if any, may contain certain software code and/or materials that are owned by third parties (the "Third Party Materials"). Such Third Party Materials, if applicable, are licensed by third parties under separate or different terms, and are not licensed to You under the terms of this EULA. Your use of such third Party Materials is subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the applicable third party license(s). Copies of the applicable licenses are either provided to You as part of the delivery of the Software or by such other delivery means as QRS reasonably elects. These licenses impose certain obligations on You as a condition of the right to use and license the third party's software.

5. Term; Termination. This EULA will commence when you first use the Beacon and will continue until terminated. Your rights under this EULA will terminate immediately and automatically without notice from QRS if you fail to comply with any of the terms and conditions of this EULA. In addition, QRS may terminate this EULA at any time upon notice to You by posting on our website located at www.gimbal.com/beacon_eula. Upon termination of this EULA, You shall cease all use of the Beacon, including without limitation the Beacon Software, in Your possession or control. Sections 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18 and 19 shall survive termination of this EULA.

6. Privacy; Data Collection and Use. Beacons are part of a system to help provide certain information (e.g., proximate location) to enable services to you and others. We refer to such services as "Proximity-Enabled Services." Beacons work as follows: Beacons periodically broadcast: (i) a rolling (i.e., intermittently changing) identifier, (ii) battery power level, and (iii) ambient temperature. Such broadcasted information is received by software installed on mobile or fixed devices such as mobile phones, tablets, or devices plugged into wall outlets. We refer to such devices as "Receiver Devices". The software on any Receiver Device periodically sends us the Beacon's broadcast information along with the time and location of receipt. We will process and share the information we receive with the applicable Proximity-Enabled Service provider to enable the relevant Proximity-Enabled Service. To stop a Beacon from transmitting data, remove the battery. If you wish to unsubscribe from any Proximity-Enabled Service, please follow the instructions provided by the Proximity-Enabled Service provider.

7. Intellectual Property Ownership. The Beacon Software is licensed, and not sold to You. You acknowledge and agree (and if You are a business entity, you acknowledge and agree on behalf of yourself and Your Subsidiaries (defined below)), that nothing in this EULA shall convey, assign or otherwise transfer to You any title or ownership rights (including without limitation any Intellectual Property Rights (as defined below)) in or to any of the Beacon Software or any Intellectual Property Rights of QRS. "Subsidiary" of an entity that is a party to this EULA (each, a "First Person") means any other entity (i) in which the majority (more than fifty percent (50%)) of the voting power held by the shares or other securities entitled to vote for election of directors (or other managing authority) is now or hereafter owned or controlled by such First Person either directly or indirectly or (ii) that does not have outstanding shares or securities but the majority (more than fifty percent (50%)) of the equity interests in which is now or hereafter owned or controlled by such First Person, either directly or indirectly, but only for so long as such ownership or control referenced in clause (i) or (ii) above exists. "Intellectual Property Rights" means copyright rights, trademark rights, patent rights, trade secrets, moral rights, right of publicity, right of privacy, authors' rights, contract and licensing rights, goodwill and all other intellectual property rights as may exist now and/or hereafter come into existence and all renewals and extensions thereof, worldwide.

8. No Grant of Patent or Certain Other Rights. Except for the express copyright license rights granted to You in Section 1 (License Grant), no other rights under any Intellectual Property Rights are granted by QRS under or as a result of this EULA (whether expressly, impliedly, by virtue of estoppel or exhaustion, or otherwise). You acknowledge and agree, and if You are a business entity you acknowledge and agree on behalf of Yourself and Your Affiliates, that neither the delivery or other conveyance of any hardware or software, including without limitation the Beacon Software, nor any provision of this EULA (including, without limitation, any provision in any exhibit, SOW, addendum, etc. forming a part hereof) will be deemed or construed to grant (whether expressly, by implication or by way of estoppel or otherwise) any right, license, authority to infringe, or immunity from infringement liability under or to: (i) any patents of QUALCOMM Incorporated or any of its Affiliates (collectively, "QC Entities"), or (ii) any other Intellectual Property Rights of QC Entities covering or relating to any technology (including, without limitation, any product or invention) not embodied solely in the Beacon Software. "Affiliates" of (a) QRS means any present or future corporation or other legal entity that controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with QUALCOMM Incorporated; and (b) of You, if you are a business entity, means any present or future corporation or other legal entity that controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with You, in each of (a) and (b) where control means ownership of more than fifty percent (50%) of the shares, equity interest or other securities entitled to vote for election of directors (or other managing authority).

9. Other Obligations. You acknowledge and agree (and if You are a business entity You acknowledge and agree on behalf of Yourself and Your Subsidiaries), that (a) this EULA does not modify or abrogate any obligations that You or any of Your Subsidiaries has under any license or other EULA with QUALCOMM Incorporated, including, without limitation, any obligation to pay any royalties, and (b) You will not, and will ensure that each of Your Subsidiaries do not, contend that it has obtained any right, license, authority to infringe, or immunity from infringement liability with respect to any patents of QC Entities under or as a result of this EULA (whether expressly, impliedly, by virtue of estoppel or exhaustion, or otherwise).

10. Open Source. You shall not incorporate, link, distribute or use any third party software or code in conjunction with (i) the Beacon Software (ii) any Beacon Software, products, documentation, content or other materials developed using the Beacon Software, nor (iii) any derivative works that You make using the source code portions of the Beacon Software (if any), in such a way that: (a) creates, purports to create or has the potential to create, obligations with respect to the Beacon Software or other QRS Beacon Software, including without limitation the distribution or disclosure of any source code; or (b) grants, purports to grant, or has the potential to grant to any third party any rights to or immunities under any intellectual property rights or proprietary rights of QRS or its Affiliates, including without limitation as such rights exist in or relate to the Beacon Software. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, You shall not incorporate, link, distribute or use (1) the Beacon Software or any other Beacon Software provided by QRS, (2) any Beacon Software, products, documentation, content or other materials developed using the Beacon Software, nor (3) any derivative works that You make using the source code portions of the Beacon Software (if any), with any code or Beacon Software licensed under any version of the GNU General Public License ("GPL"), Affero General Public License ("AGPL"), Lesser General Public License ("LGPL"), European Union Public License ("EUPL"), Apple Public Source License ("APSL"), Common Development and Distribution License ("CDDL"), IBM Public License ("IPL"), Eclipse Public License ("EPL"), Mozilla Public License ("MPL"), or any other open source license, in any manner that could cause or could be interpreted or asserted to cause the Beacon Software or other QRS Beacon Software (or any modifications thereto) to become subject to the terms of the GPL, AGPL, LGPL, EUPL, APSL, CDDL, IPL, EPL, MPL, or such other open source license. You, and each party receiving Beacon Software or any copies thereof from You, shall not receive any rights to use such Beacon Software or copies thereof in a manner that will cause any patents, copyrights or other Intellectual Property Rights which are owned or controlled by QRS or any of its Affiliates (or for which QRS or any of its Affiliates has received license rights) to become subject to any encumbrance or terms and conditions of any third party or open source license (including, without limitation, any open source license listed on <http://www.opensource.org/licenses/alphabetical>) (each an "Open Source License"). These restrictions, limitations, exclusions and conditions shall apply even if QRS or any of its Affiliates becomes aware of or fails to act in a manner to address any violation or failure to comply therewith. Also, no act by QRS or any of its Affiliates that is undertaken under this EULA as to any Beacon Software or technology shall be construed as being inconsistent with the intent not to cause any patents, copyrights or other intellectual property rights which are owned or controlled by QRS or any of its Affiliates (or for which QRS or any of its Affiliates has received license rights) to become subject to any encumbrance or terms and conditions of any Open Source License.

PRODUCT WARNING

Scientific research on wireless devices and radio frequency ("RF") energy has been conducted worldwide for many years, and continues. In the United States, the Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") and the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC") set policies and procedures for wireless devices. The FDA issued a website publication on health issues related to usage of cell phones where it states, "The scientific community at large believes that the weight of the scientific evidence does not show an association between exposure to RF from cell phones and adverse health outcomes." Still the scientific community does recommend conducting additional research to address gaps in knowledge. That research is being conducted around the world and the FDA continues to monitor developments in this field. You can access the FDA website at <http://www.fda.gov> (Under "C" in the subject index, select Cell Phones > Research.). You can also contact the FDA toll free at (888) 463-6332 or (888) INFO-FDA. The FCC issued its own website publication stating that "there is no scientific evidence that proves that wireless telephone usage can lead to cancer or other problems, including headaches, dizziness or memory loss." The publication is available at <http://www.fcc.gov/cgb/cellular.html> or through the FCC at (888) 225-5322 or (888) CALL-FCC. The National Cancer Institute ("NCI") states that concerns about the potential health effects of using cellular phones – "and specifically the suggestion that using a cell phone may increase a person's risk of developing brain cancer – are not supported by a growing body of research on the subject."

1. Can I minimize my RF exposure? If you are concerned about RF, there are several simple steps you can take to minimize your RF exposure. You can, minimize usage of the device near the body. You can also place more distance between your body and the source of the RF, as the exposure level drops off dramatically with distance. Wireless devices marketed in the United States are required to meet safety requirements regardless of whether they are used against the head or against the body.
