Compliance Notice

Federal Communication Commission (FCC) Notice

The Federal Communications Commission has established technical standards regarding radio frequency energy emitted by computer devices. This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class A digital device, pursuant to Part 15 of the FCC Rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference when the equipment is operated in a commercial environment. This equipment generates, uses, and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instruction manual, may cause harmful interference with radio/TV reception. Operation of this equipment in a residential area is likely to cause harmful interference in which case the user will be required to correct the interference at his own expense.

Changes or modifications to this equipment that are not expressly approved by E.J. Brooks Company could void the warranty and the authority to operate this equipment.

E.J. Brooks Company is not responsible for radio/TV interference caused by using unauthorized cable or by making unauthorized changes to this equipment.
