Re: Confidentiality Treatment request for Class II permissive change filing for FCC ID S55-1210

To Whom It May Concern at the FCC:

Noto LLC and its affiliates (“Noto”) are submitting Class II permissive change filing for our product with the FCC ID S55-1210. One document in our submission package is confidential and we are seeking indefinite confidential treatment of this document.

Regulatory Rules for Confidentiality	Requested Duration of Confidential Treatment	Material to Keep Confidential
As allowed 47 CFR Section 0.457 and 0.459 and related rules of the FCC	Indefinite	Operational Description

We request indefinite confidential treatment of the so designated material above because it's highly confidential, very sensitive business and technical information and discloses or would show a third party detailed information about how Noto designs, makes, and maintains our product. We do not share this information with any third parties unless there is a strict need to know, even after Noto's selling of our products. We also only share the material with third parties if they are bound by contracts that contains terms requiring such information be maintained as confidential. If the material were made public, our competitors would obtain an unfair commercial advantage over Noto and our existing and future products, in the already highly competitive mobile device market space. Any such disclosure it would be extremely detrimental to our business both immediately and on a long term basis.

We appreciate your support of our request, and thank you for the FCC's assistance.

Sincerely,

Stacy Smith, President
Noto LLC
