The image consists of two photographs showing the repair of a laptop screen. The top photograph shows a gold-colored flexible display cable being connected to the screen's internal components. The cable has a black label with white text that reads "DPT", "DPT - GROUP", and "300-L3505B-A00-V1.0". The bottom photograph shows a black flexible display cable being connected to the screen's internal components. The cable has a gold-colored label with black text that reads "DPT", "DPT - GROUP", and "300-L3505B-A00-V1.0". Both cables are being connected to a black plastic frame, which is part of the laptop's internal structure. The background of both photos is a light-colored, textured surface.
