

Circuit Description

The receiver, push main switch button to light circuit breaker which has red, the red PROTECTED LED and green GROUNDED LED are light the same time if power strip work properly. when the receiver receive the signal from the Transmitter, the signal will be through the amplifier to the SuperHet, the SuperHet use the osc of 435.72MHz ,and the Decoder will send the data to the controller ,and all the circuit will work .when Push the OFF button at key chain transmitter to power off four remote controlled outlets. The receiver LED indicator will be lighted when remote control function is work. Use key chain box transmitter to power off the power strip if you don't need.