

Label Location:

EUT LABEL

- The available label area on the device is limited to battery compartment because it is relatively small and the removable cover of battery compartment is not suitable for the label to affix to the device permanently.
- The battery is designed for easy removal and replacement by users without tools and the label will be visible when the battery is removed for replacement.
- The label will be readily visible at the time of purchase because the device will be marketed without the battery installed.