

1. Please take a look at page 8 of your Test Report. You have done pretty well in your test procedure with looking along the X, Y, and Z planes. But I need to see some calculations of the test results. I am looking for emission readings, cable loss, antenna factors, and distance extrapolation to the proper limits. Can you please correct this and all future test reports for 27MHz devices to show this information?

The revised report downloaded to web site.