

1.1 Equipment Description

The IWS Wireless Data Acquisition Module (WDAM) is a wireless datagram transport device designed for harvesting data from a Wireless Data Acquisition Network (WDAN) cell on a configurable, periodic basis. In addition, alarm set points may also trigger a pre-mature communication from a sensor node.