

Remote Control System Instructions & Warning

Remote Control system for Dust Collector

RC-161+RC-170-110V / RC-160+RC-170-220V

- The "Thermal relay Protection" on the remote control system is designed to protect the integrated circuit board on the remote control system and not the motor on your machine
- To ensure that your machines' motor is protected, if not already supplied with your machine, have a thermal relay protector installed on the motor.
- Make sure the remote control system is used only on machines that have electrical specifications and horsepower ratings within the limits listed below. Using this remote control system outside of these listed limits will result in damage to the remote control and/or to the motor of your machine.
- The "Thermal Relay Protection " amp setting references for the remote control system are as below:

For 1 HP --- 12 amp

For 2 HP --- 18 amp

For 3 HP --- 25 amp
