

Remote Controller Circuit Description

The circuit runs when anyone of the 4 buttons is pressed, and the system begins to setup the code of this button. Subsequently the coded message will be sent to high frequency circuit (433 MHz) for modulation through the 17-feet code IC, and then the message will be transmitted to the antenna by the high frequency circuit. Finally the wireless signal is transmitted to the air successfully.