

REF: EMC25943-FCC247

To whom it may concern:

The Wireless Autani Transceiver, WAT, is physically too small to support a label indicating the appropriate language as called out by the FCC. In order to meet this label requirement the language is included in the Users Manual, Wireless Autani Transceiver; document number 80016. It can be found in section 7 Certifications, under Note 3. This note is included herein for reference.

NOTE 3: This device complies with part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions: (1) This device may not cause harmful interference, and (2) this device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation.