

Circuit Description

When power on, device can search the cell phone with the Bluetooth function and automatically connect to the cell phone. When there is an incoming call or dialing, the cell phone will use 2.4G ISM to connect the device and the phone call voice will be transferred to the microphone and horn of the device to realize free-hand function to make sure drives.