

Diagram shows label positioned between top and bottom housing which is both snapped and screwed together

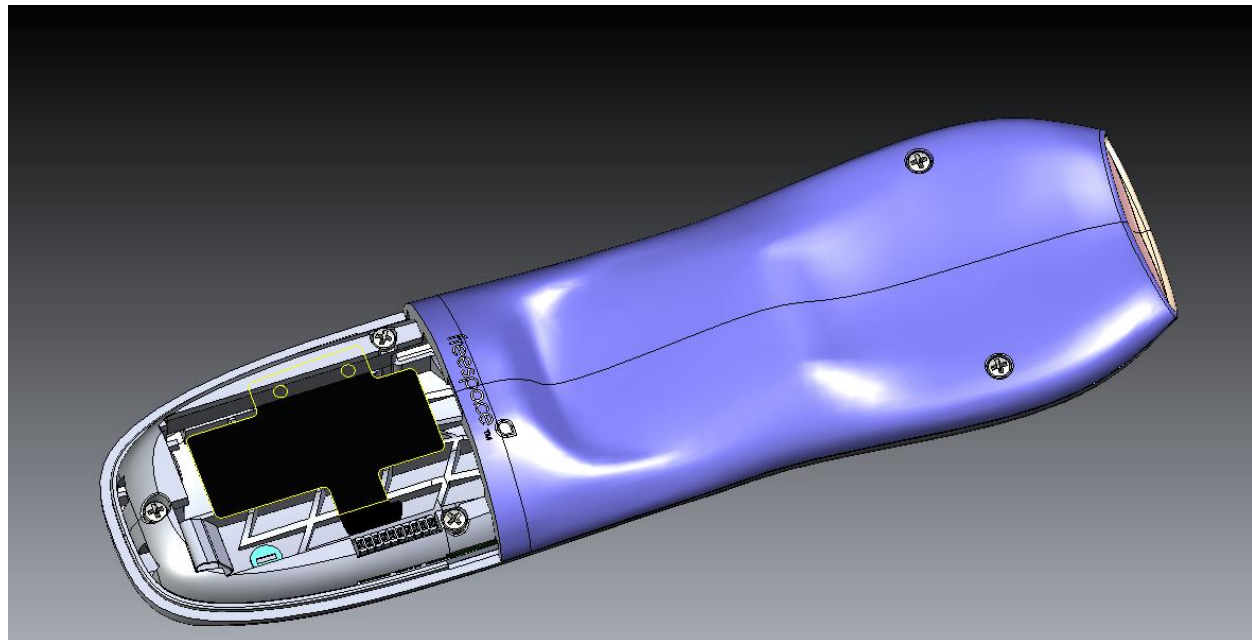

Diagram shows Yellow outline of full label and through holes which are used to affix the label to the remote

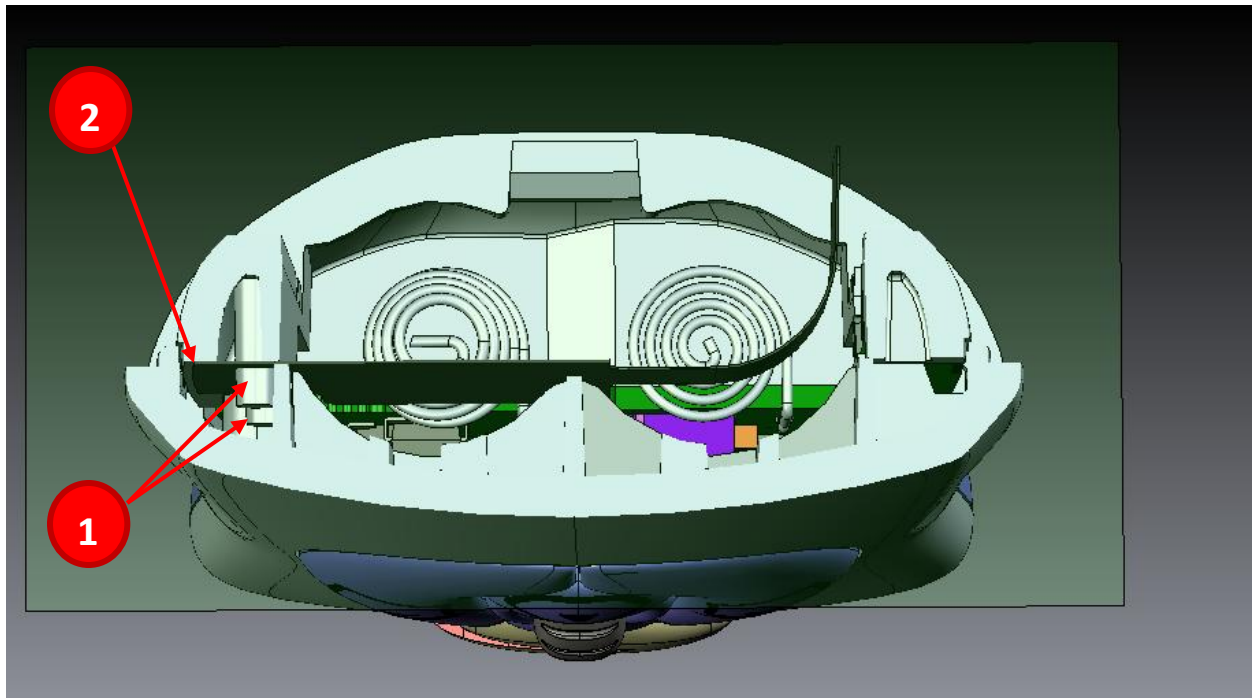

Diagram showing cross section of the remote control with a perspective from the rear to the front of the device

1. These are the Pegs which go through the holes on the label and make it non-removable
2. Note the length of the label